

THE ECONOMIC TIMESBlogs
Home Blogs Times View Times Impact City India World Entertainment Tech Sports Lifestyle Entertainment Science Spirituality Q&A Roots & Wings Business Reviews Search

News » Blogs » India Blogs » Make philanthropy serious business

Make philanthropy serious business

November 20, 2017, 10:45 PM IST

ET Edit in ET Editorials | India | ET

Infosys non-executive chairman Nandan Nilekani and his wife Rohini have joined the growing list of billionaires who have committed to give away at least half of their wealth to philanthropic causes through The Giving Pledge campaign, founded by Bill Gates and Warren Buffett. They join Wipro's Azim Premji, Biocon's Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw and P N C Menon of the Sobha Group in this list. This is good news and will encourage others to donate generously to help rid the world of its many ills. In an interview to this newspaper, Nilekani said that he sees philanthropy as an extreme risk capital. And that unlike government or market money, an individual's charity can be written off if something does not work. Individual goodwill is laudable. But why, pray, should that kind of moolah, which can do serious good, be written-off?

Billionaires should use skills that helped them make their fortune to organise spending the money to generate an optimal impact. Nilekani, who helped Infosys grow into a multibillion-dollar revenue giant, knows this best. The Nilekanis hope to direct much of their giving to societal platforms or tech-enabled collaborative initiatives involving government and other stakeholders. New strategies in giving, and alliances are welcome.

There are niggling worries, too. Will charity help address some of the flaws of the voluntary sector, given that many have been ensnared in controversies? Will it bring in more transparency in their operations? Also, will charities be interested in resolving country-specific problems? In India, for example, fighting diseases calls for safe drinking water, improved personal hygiene, maternal and children's health and proper nutrition that don't entail billion-dollar fixes. Givers must ensure that the focus is on what requires to be done in each country.

This piece appeared as an editorial opinion in the print edition of The Economic Times.

BLOGET Editorials

Quick takes, analyses and macro-level views on all contemporary economic, financial and political events.

AUTHOR

ET Edit

Quick takes, analyses and macro-level views on all contemporary economic, financial and political events.

FROM AROUND THE WEB

टाइप 2 डायबिटीज नार्मल करने का ये 1 नस्खा
Fit Mom Daily

'10 days' hair oil - Get new hair growth.
Rathira Ayurveda

Misfortunes can pile up unannounced
Bajaj Allianz

Burn "Excess body fat" with this easy method.
Nutralyfe

MORE FROM THE ECONOMIC TIMES

Insiders do more than trade in India's bull market
ET

Biz we have invested in are growing dynamically: Prem Watsa
Economic Times

L&T's A M Naik is original Make-in-India man: Mukesh Ambani
ET

Palace on Wheels gives way to new luxury train
Economic Times

FROM AROUND THE WEB

- Improve your Vigor,Vitality & stamina.Govt Approved.45% Off
ZEEAYURVEDA
- Minimise the impact of smog in your workspace
By Workstore.in
- Lose up to 4 dress size with Green Coffee Extract.
Green Coffee
- "Infertility can be dealt with."- Farah Khan
Parents Of Fertility

MORE FROM THE ECONOMIC TIMES

- India doing good despite all its imperfections: Gates
Economic Times
- SC Lowy points to insolvency risks
ET
- Can Tata Motors really avoid listing JLR at some point?
ET
- Anil Ambani says RCom & Jio have virtually merged
ET

Recommended By Colombia

VIEW 2 COMMENTSPOST A COMMENTSsundararaman

When the flood-gates of Love breach the veils... Of the Heart, images of own empire walls.... Wealth, power and pelf and chord-relations... Melt...

REPLYAshok

It requires a very large heart to give away one half of such a large fortune. The Nilekanis are worthy of our highest respect and gratitude.

REPLY

Climate action alive sans us support

 NEXT POST

Climate action alive sans us support

Other Times Group news sites

The Economic Times
 ઇકનોમિક ટાઇમ્સ | ઐડોનોમિક ટાઇમ્સ
 Pune Mirror | Bangalore Mirror
 Ahmedabad Mirror | ItsMyAscent
 Education Times | Brand Capital
 Mumbai Mirror | Times Now
 Indiatimes | નવાગરત ટાઇમ્સ
 મહારાષ્ટ્ર ટાઇમ્સ | એજલ ઠનાફદ
 Go Green | Lifehacker India
 Gizmodo India | Eisamay | IGN India
 NavGujarat Samay
 Living and entertainment
 Timescity | iDiva | Entertainment
 Zoom | Luxpresso | Gadget Reviews
 Online Songs | MensXp.com
 Hotels | Travel Destinations
 Cricbuzz.com

Network

etimes

Hot on the Web

World | Politics

Business | Sports

Entertainment

New Cars

Bike Price India

Car Price